Detailed rationale and key rating drivers

The ratings assigned to the various debt instruments of HDFC Credila Financial Services Limited (HDFC Credila) derive strength from its strong parentage of Housing Development Finance Corporation Limited (HDFC, rated 'CARE AAA; Stable/CARE A1+'), benefits derived from it being part of the HDFC group, including common brand name, managerial and operational support, HDFC Credila's experienced management team, relatively stable profitability, strong asset quality supported by prudent credit underwriting norms and a strong liquidity profile. The revision in rating of perpetual debt instruments is on account of the change in CARE's policy on rating of perpetual debt instrument of NBFCs. The rating strengths are partially offset by the exposure to single asset class and moderate gearing levels.

Rating sensitivities

Negative factors – Factors that could lead to negative rating action/downgrade:

- Weakening of the parent's credit profile and/or any major dilution in the shareholding.
- Material deterioration in asset quality on a sustained basis.
- Increase in the gearing level beyond 8x on a sustained basis.

Detailed description of the key rating drivers

Key rating strengths

Strong parentage and benefits derived from being part of the HDFC group: HDFC Credila is a wholly-owned subsidiary of HDFC, a leading housing finance company in India (HDFC, rated 'CARE AAA; Stable/CARE A1+'). HDFC shares its brand name with the subsidiary, and the company is an integral part of the group's business providing diversification in the form of education loans. Consequently, the propensity of the parent to provide support remains high. The strong involvement of the parent company is exhibited in the resultant management oversight - HDFC Credila's board is chaired by the Executive Director of HDFC (V.S. Rangan) along with key personnel from HDFC, namely, Madhumita Ganguli. The Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer (CEO), Arijit Sanyal, was appointed by HDFC in December 2019. The company also benefits from HDFC's widespread branch network, which supports HDFC Credila's lending operations. HDFC Credila received capital support from the parent as reflected over the years. HDFC Ltd has infused ₹380 crore in HDFC Credila over the past five years with the last infusion being in March 2020 of ₹200 crore. CARE Ratings Limited (CARE Ratings) expects HDFC Ltd to support capital requirements of HDFC Credila in case of need.

Experienced management team along with robust systems and credit underwriting processes: The company benefits from the experience of its senior management team. The CEO, Arijit Sanyal, was earlier the head of Strategic Planning

<sup>1</sup>Complete definition of the ratings assigned are available at www.careedge.in and other CARE Ratings Ltd.'s publications

& New Initiatives for HDFC. He is supported by an experienced management team of CFO, CTO, CRO, NCM and National Business Head, the veterans from the banking and financial services industry. The management is focused on building strong systems and processes that help mitigate asset quality and other operational risks of this segment. Also, HDFC Credila has established systems and risk controls in place which support its underwriting standards. Going forward, the company is expected to further ramp-up its information technology (IT) systems, CRM and LMS, and also digitise many of its underwriting systems along with its continuous monitoring of its portfolio in terms of risk.

Strong asset quality; albeit loan portfolio has moderate seasoning: The company's Gross Stage III Assets continue to remain low at 0.57% (includes assets restructured under the RBI Resolution Framework for COVID-19-related stress) as on March 31, 2022 (March 31, 2021: 0.60%). As on March 31, 2022, total restructuring stood at ₹55.02 crore, wherein ₹31.36 crore was included in Gross Stage III, whereas Net Stage III assets stood at 0.38% as on March 31, 2022. Current collection efficiency has improved from 97.5% (lowest witnessed in the month of April 2021 during the second wave of COVID-19) and stood at around 99.5% from the month of September 2021 and also witnesses higher proportion of prepayments which are structural to the company's business. Considering the increase in disbursements in FY22 (refers to the period April 1 to March 31) to ₹4,309 crore, which led to a significant loan book growth with assets under management (AUM) outstanding at ₹8,838 crore as at the end of March 2022. The growth has occurred majorly in the past seven years and only a moderate proportion of loan has been fully repaid due to the inherent nature of education loans; HDFC Credila's loan book remains moderately seasoned in nature. It is to be noted that the company structures repayment of loans extended to its borrowers in a way such that at least a part or full interest is scheduled to be paid during the study period also, mainly for the purpose of continuous monitoring. The gestation period of two years for graduation exposes its ultimate borrowers to changes in the job market, unemployment rate and economic cycles, which is likely to have bearing on the asset quality. However, the relatively higher prepayment rates witnessed by the company (18% to 24% in the past) adds comfort. It is to be noted that the prepayment rate is considering the total loan book and not based on the loans under repayment where equated monthly installment (EMI) is due.

Profitability parameters: During FY22, the yields on advances witnessed decline as the company passed on reduction in the cost of funds to its borrowers. Despite reduction in yields, the net interest margin (NIM) witnessed improvement in FY22 to 4.75% as against 4.16% in FY21. With stable Opex and credit cost, return on total assets (ROTA) improved to 2.63% in FY22 as against 2.28% in FY21.

Diversified resource profile: The parentage of HDFC strengthens the resource profile of HDFC Credila. As on March 31, 2022, the company's borrowings stood at ₹7,515 crore. Major borrowing comes from term loans (54%), followed by non-convertible debentures (NCDs) (27%), external commercial borrowing (10%), Tier-I and Tier-II capital instruments (8%), and commercial paper (1%). In FY22, the company was able to bring down the cost of funds by renegotiating its loans and linking them to external benchmarks leading to faster transmission of changes in the interest rates in trend with the industry. The company's resource raising ability from diversified sources at competitive rate adequately supported by its linkage to the parent provides more comfort.

Key rating weaknesses

Exposure to a single asset class: HDFC Credila provides education loans, which exposes it to the product concentration risk, as any fall in the demand for educational loans or increase in the competition from other players may severely impact the operations and profitability of the company. The distribution of loan portfolio across India was evenly spread out, with no cities forming above 20% with major share from the cities of Hyderabad (16%), Mumbai (15%), Delhi NCR (14%), Pune (13%), and others as on FY22. Going forward, CARE Ratings expects the company to diversify its lending within the education loan segment.

Moderate gearing levels: On account of high loan book growth during FY22, the overall gearing stood at 5.60x as on March 31, 2022, as compared with 4.68x as on March 31, 2021. Similarly, the company's total capital adequacy ratio (CAR) and Tier-I CAR decreased to 18.93% and 14.84% as on March 31, 2022, as compared with 24.02% and 17.67% as on March 31, 2021. Owing to the parent-subsidiary linkage, the company enjoys good capital raising ability and financial flexibility, which is expected to support its capital levels and also fund future business expansions, going forward.

Liquidity: Strong

The company has a well-matched asset-liability maturity (ALM) up to one year considering the prepayment rates at historical levels. As on June 13, 2022, the company had cash and bank balances and liquid investments of ₹221 crore along with unutilised bank lines of ₹1,005 crore as against the debt obligation of ₹735 crore for the next six months up to November 2022 based on actual maturities (including interest). CARE Ratings expects the liquidity profile to be adequately supported by the parentage of HDFC, which will help to plug any future liquidity mismatches, if required.

Analytical approach: CARE Ratings has analysed the standalone credit profile of HDFC Credila along with the strong linkages with its parent, HDFC, in the form of ownership, management and financial support.
